

INDUSTRIAL GAS MANUFACTURING AND PACKAGING

Vacuum pumps serve a critical role in the manufacturing, packaging and transportation of high purity gases. Vacuum pumps used for the evacuation of gas lines, bottles and transportation vessels must achieve a low vacuum at a high speed and be safe from explosion, contamination and back-streaming. After 30 years of working with the major gas suppliers we have developed vacuum pump oils that are not only safe, but give you the ultimate pressure you need and the oil life required for this fast changing industry. We also supply filters, filtration and vacuum pumps for all your high purity gas requirements.
